

Jérôme Bilodeau is the Director of the Buildings Division at NRCan's Office of Energy Efficiency, where he oversees the delivery of programs and policies aiming to save energy and reduce greenhouse gas emissions. In addition, Jérôme also teaches Energy Efficiency Policy at Carleton University, and sits on the board of the Canadian International Council (National Capital Branch) and on the Steering Committee of the UN's Global Alliance for Buildings and Construction. Prior to this role, he was Senior Consultant at Dunsky in Montréal, and manager at Environment and Climate Change Canada. A licensed professional engineer, Jérôme holds a B.A.Sc. in Mechanical Engineering from the University of Ottawa, and an MBA from HEC Montréal.